FOR PRESS, RADIO and TELEVISION

This is your 1955 Maryland football brochure, "The 50-Yard Line." It is published in hope that it offers you helpful information for your coverage of Terp games this season. With this book goes an invitation to you to visit us as often as possible in our offices in New Byrd Stadium. In return, I will try to visit you as often as I can and extend every assistance possible. For any information, you can reach me day and night at UNION 4-4076. When it is real late at night, I can be contacted at WARfield 7-3800, Extension 507.

Applications for tickets should be made the first part of the week of the game to allow time for mailing. Wire and telephone requirements should be made through your local Western Union office.

Every effort will be made to furnish all the services in the press box available, so that your accounts of the game can be most adequate for your readers. Statistics, both half-time and final figures; a quarter play-by-play; game leaders in all departments; substitutions, etc. will be ready a few minutes after the game.

Many thanks for all your cooperation and favors of the past.

JOE F. BLAIR

Sports Publicity Director
University of Maryland,
College Park, Maryland.

A 1930 University graduate, Bill Cobey moved into the big job as Graduate Manager of Athletics in 1948. His is the task of scheduling for all other athletic teams except football, which numbers thirteen.

The pleasant Cobey also acts in the capacity of contact man and heads the athletic ticket office. A member of his staff is Bennie Robinson, ticket manager for all University athletic events.

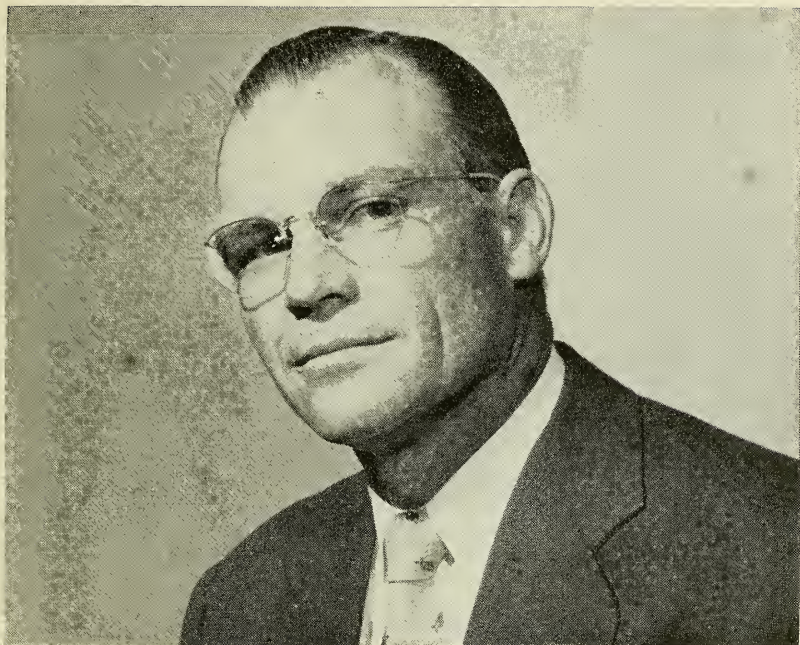

A native of Quincy, Fla., his interest in Maryland stems from his being a member of an old Maryland family. His father graduated from the University in 1901.

Cobey received his Bachelor's Degree from the School of Business and Public Administration. Following graduation he became Cashier of the University, a job he had for 17 years before his move to the Athletic Department.

The Cobey's have six children, three daughters and three sons.

DR. WILSON H. ELKINS

PRESIDENT, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Assuming the Presidency of the University of Maryland last September 1, Dr. Elkins has made great strides for the University in just one year's tenure. He has worked long and hard and has endeared himself to students and faculty of the University, an institution that is known the world over. Dr. Elkins was introduced to the vast overseas educational program of the University this summer when he attended graduation exercises in Germany.

Dr. Elkins, former president of Texas Western College of the University of Texas at El Paso before his Maryland appointment, was born in Median, Texas, July 9, 1908. With his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Elkins, he moved to San Antonio at an early age.

After completing his grade and high school education in San Antonio, Dr. Elkins attended Schreiner Institute from 1926 to the spring of 1928 when he entered the University of Texas. From Texas University in 1932, he received both the bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees.

Receiving a Rhodes Scholarship, Dr. Elkins attended Oxford University from 1933 to 1936, receiving degrees of Bachelor of Letters and Doctor of Philosophy.

Combining outstanding academic and athletic abilities during his student days at the University of Texas, he was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa and earned eight varsity letters in football, basketball, and track. In his final year at Texas, he captained the basketball team and was elected president of the students' association.

Dr. Elkins lettered in football on the 1929, 1930, and 1931 teams at Texas and was the regular quarterback in his final two seasons, the one in 1930 winning the Southwest Conference title. That team ranks among Texas' all-time best. A soph end with that team was Edwin B. Price, now head coach at Texas.

He lettered on the 1930, '31, and '32 basketball teams. He was captain his senior year and also the squad's leading scorer. He lettered in track in 1931 and '32 as a sprinter and broad jumper. He was a member of the national championship football shuttle relay team at the Drake Relays in 1931.

Dr. Elkins married Dorothy Blackburn of Berclair, Texas, in 1927. They have two daughters, Carole Ann and Margaret Elise. His career as an educator began in 1932 when he was named athletic director of Cisco High School. In 1936, Dr. Elkins joined the faculty of the University of Texas as an instructor in history. He held this position until 1938 when he went to San Angelo as president of the Junior College.

He remained there until January, 1949, when he was chosen president of Texas Western College. This position he held until his recent appointment as the President of the University of Maryland.

Dr. Elkins is a member of numerous learned societies including the Texas State Teacher's Association, National Educational Association, Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha Phi Gamma, and is listed in Who's Who in American Education. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Dr. Elkins is a member of the Methodist Church and the Rotary Club. He is a constant contributor to national education periodicals.

JIM TATUM

NATION'S TOP COACH FOR 10-YEAR PERIOD

Starting his ninth year as head football coach and Athletic Director at the University of Maryland, the youthful, hard-working Tatum again looks to another winning ledger. In his eight years on the College Park campus, one at North Carolina, his alma mater, and one at Oklahoma, ten in all, he always has come through with better than .500 seasons. In fact, most of them have been near perfect seasons—and two of them were—1951 and 1953. A recent survey revealed he has the best won-lost coaching record for a ten year period.

The 41-year old Tatum guided the Terrapins to the 1953 National Championship, and it was during his season of '51 that Maryland came up with the first undefeated season in the history of the school.

Tatum has had many honors given him as he has been recognized as one of the all-time great football coaches, even though to date he has had what is usually regarded as a brief tenure as a head coach. His coaching fraternity voted him national "Coach of the Year" honors in 1953 as did members of his Conference, the Atlantic Coast League. In 1951, he earned Southern Conference "Coach of the Year" honors.

Along with assistant Coach Warren Giese, he co-authored a book for the football libraries in 1953—"Coaching Football and the Split-T." It is being revised currently, and is in its fifth printing.

Every other year since coming to Maryland in 1947, his teams have gone to a major Bowl game. When the Terps haven't been in a Bowl, Tatum has assisted Miami's Andy Gustafson coaching the South team for the annual North-South Shrine game in the Orange Bowl at Christmas.

This summer he was chosen by the Government to conduct a month's clinic tour for the Armed Forces in Hawaii, the Far East, and Alaska.

In the past eight campaigns, the Terps have won 63, lost 14, and tied four. Tatum has taken the big Red Shirts to four post-season bowl classics. The 7-0 loss to Oklahoma in the '54 Orange Bowl was his first bowl loss. His overall record coaching collegiate teams which numbers ten years (one at North Carolina and one at Oklahoma) is 76 wins, 19 losses, and six ties. This does not include a 9-2-0 record when he was head coach at Jacksonville Naval Air Station during the war.

A former star tackle at the University of North Carolina ('35), Tatum probably is the most defense-minded coach in America. At least that is what his colleagues say about him.

But despite this accent on defense, his Split-T offense is one of the best. Tatum's almost every available off-season moment is spent lecturing on the Split-T, both offense and its defense.

Back of Tatum's coaching success is his greatest asset—the ability to organize. Dr. H. C. Byrd, president emeritus of the University, himself, of course, a former Terp football coach, terms Tatum the greatest organizer he has met. Tatum's coaching staff, his coaching system, his planning for practice, his preparation for games are part of his close-knit organization. His day in football season starts at 6:30 a.m. It is over around midnight. A big fellow, he has the drive to carry through a season on this schedule.

All-Americans, pro prospects, and members of all-star teams virtually were unheard of at Maryland before Tatum came. Maryland has placed two players on most of the All-Americans for five years; in '51, '52, and '54, more Terps were drafted by the pros than any other school; and in '53 and '54 Maryland had more players in the All-Star game than any other school.

After his graduation from North Carolina in '35, the native of McColl, S. C. followed his coach, Carl Snavely, to Cornell. He returned to his alma mater for his first fling at head coaching in 1942.

World War II found Tatum in the Navy. It was then that he was to learn the Split-T from Missouri's Don Faurot as the latter's assistant at Iowa Pre-Flight. In '45, he was head coach at Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

After his Navy discharge, he molded a strong eleven at Oklahoma, then came to Maryland.

The Tatums have three children, Becky, fifth grade; son, Jimmy, third grade; and a three-year old daughter, Reid. Mrs. Tatum is a native of Ayden, N. C.

ASSISTANT COACHES

WARREN GIESE

As early as 1948, Coach Tatum called on Giese, who had played end for him in the Navy and at Oklahoma, to become End Coach for the Terrapins. Since the departure of Jack Hennemier to Calgary, Canada, Giese becomes the oldest member of the coaching staff in length of service with Tatum and Maryland.

An All Big Seven end at Oklahoma in 1946, Giese, a hard worker and fine student of the game, spent the summer working on various chapter revisions of the book he co-authored with Tatum in 1953, "Coaching Football and the Split-T." The book now is in its fifth printing.

In the summer of '52, he spent a month in Japan as a member of the U.S. Coaching Staff. He assisted Tatum in the College All-Star camp last summer.

A native of Milwaukee, Giese started his collegiate athletic career at Wisconsin State College. Here the Navy vet lettered playing end and also won his monogram as a quarter-miler.

Under the V-12 program, Giese studied at Central Michigan College. Here he played right halfback before being transferred to Miami Training Center and then to Jacksonville in '45 where he first played end for Tatum. In '46 he followed Tatum to Oklahoma and subsequently won first team Big Seven honors.

He returned to Central Michigan and played another year while completing his work for his B.A. and B.S. degrees. In '48, Tatum added his former star to the Terp staff. While at Maryland he has received his Master's in Physical Education, and now is working on his Doctorate.

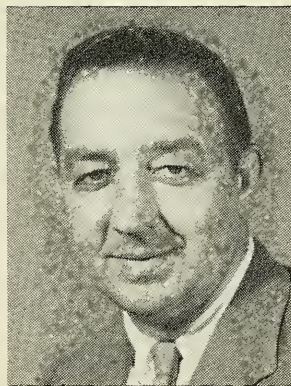

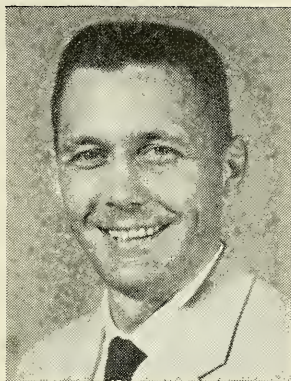

The Giese's have two daughters.

TOMMY MONT

One of the all-time three-sport athletes in the history of the University of Maryland, Tommy Mont has been tutoring the Terps' backfield since his return to his alma mater in the fall of 1951.

A four-year letterman in football, basketball, and lacrosse, Mont returned to Maryland after four brilliant years with the professional Washington Redskins.

A native of Cumberland, Maryland, Mont started his collegiate athletic career in 1941. He was in school two years before entering the service in the spring of '43. He played tailback in '41, then quarterback on the '42 T eleven. Both years he also won his basketball and lacrosse monograms. Mont won All-America mention as well as first team

The all-time great name in the history of Maryland football is that of the senior line coach assistant, Bob Ward. Following his graduation in 1952, Coach Tatum immediately found a place on his staff for his two-year All-America guard.

Following his discharge from the Army paratroopers in 1947, Ward came to Maryland as one of the smallest guard prospects ever seen by Jim Tatum. But Tatum liked what he saw and now is more than happy that Ward was on his side of the line for four years. The 185-pounder from Elizabeth, N. J., was outstanding every Saturday.

Ward graduated in 1952 with a degree from the School of Business and Public Administration, finishing in the upper one-third of his class. He majored in Real Estate and Insurance.

His many honors are too numerous to mention, but Ward was recipient of every award imaginable for any lineman. After making All-America his junior year for his excellent defensive play, he proved that he wasn't just an ordinary platoon football player by making everybody's All-America team in 1951 playing offense. Tatum himself credits the great success of his offensive team, highest scoring machine in the country, to his '51 Co-Captain, Ward. When things got tough, Ward would trot in to play defense and stop the enemy threat.

Besides the unanimous All-America selections his senior year, Ward was named "Lineman of the Year" by the Washington Touch-down Club and the Philadelphia Sportswriters' Assn. He was runner-up to Stanford's Bill McColl for the same Associated Press award. He was named the outstanding player of the Southern Conference. During the '51 season, he was the nation's "Lineman of the Week" after his great game against Georgia, played with a broken hand.

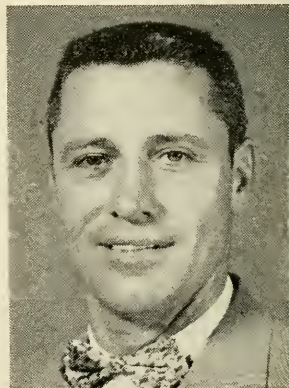

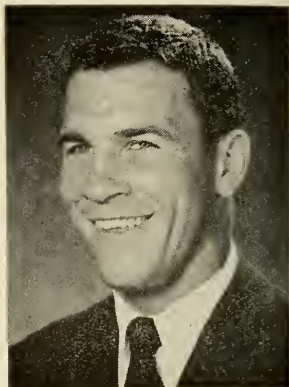

The Ward's have three children, two boys, Jim, 5, and Bob, Jr., 2, and a daughter, Kathie, four years old.

EMMETT CHEEK

The hard-working native of Chapel Hill, N. C., Cheek begins his fifth year as a member of the Terp coaching staff. Tatum beckoned his old acquaintance from his alma mater of North Carolina in 1951.

Born and raised in Chapel Hill, Cheek played in 1940 as a freshman for Coach Tatum, then Tarheel freshman coach, as a guard. After another year of football, he was called into the service in '41, and served in the Army Medics.

Returning to Carolina, Cheek completed his football career under Carl Snavely. He stayed on and did graduate work in '48. He received his Master's Degree in Physical Education from UNC in 1950.

Beginning his fourth year on the Terp coaching staff, Teague's undergraduate record shows he was a brilliant three-sport athlete at North Carolina State and the University of North Carolina.

Tatum brought the Tarheel graduate to Maryland following his discharge in mid-August from the U.S. Marine Corps after serving 15 months in Korea with the Infantry, 1st Marine Division. A Captain in the USMCR, he served three years during World War II.

Teague attended N.C. State College, 1941-43, then transferred to UNC via his Marine Unit and received his A. B. Degree. Lettering in football, basketball, and baseball, he received All-America mention his senior year at UNC as a tailback and also was named to the All-Conference team that year.

Following his World War II service, he returned to UNC and got his Master's in '47.

He then went to Guilford College, N. C., as backfield coach and assistant director of physical education in 1947 and '48. He was head coach and athletic director 1949-'51 before he was called to active duty.

Besides his coaching duties, Teague, along with Cheek, scouts for the Terps. He has authored a book on scouting which will be off the press this fall. He also is an instructor in the School of Physical Education. He is studying for his Doctorate in Physical Education.

The Teagues have a daughter, Peggy, seven.

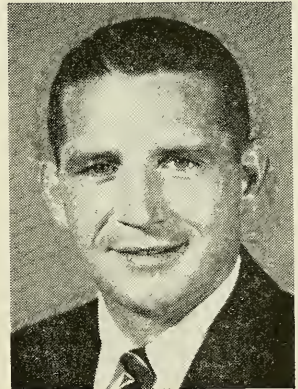

ED KENSLER

Another prize pupil of Coach Tatum's was recalled to his alma mater this winter when Tatum was faced with finding a capable replacement to fill the big job of line coach Jack Hennemier who had taken the head coaching position in Calgary, Canada.

He only had to go to Lexington, Va., where he had recommended his former line star, Ed Kensler, for a coaching job at Washington and Lee, just three years ago. The affable Kensler, at V.M.I. at the time, following W&L's decision not to have a major football schedule, accepted the beckoning of his former teacher and now is another valuable addition to Tatum's youthful and capable staff.

Kensler, a native of Lawrenceville, Ill., came to Maryland in the fall semester of 1948 following his discharge from the U.S. Marine Corps after a two-year hitch. He played center two years for the

Freshman Coach

Still another product of Tatum as a player, Dovell begins his third season at his alma mater as head freshman coach. The former guard of the '49 and '50 teams, received his Bachelor's in Physical Education in 1953.

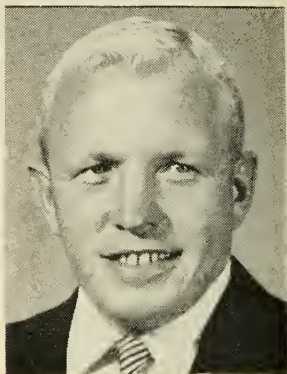

Tatum used Dovell part time as an undergraduate while completing his academic work. He was so pleased with his handling of various coaching duties that he was placed on the staff on full-time basis for the '53 campaign.

He has had two winning seasons and has produced some real outstanding boys for the varsity.

This fall, October 15, Dovell will take the Terp yearlings to Mexico City for an international clash with Mexico Polytechnic Institute.

"Whitey," a hard working perfectionist on and off the field, also handles the film library. He is working on his Master's Degree in Physical Education.

He married the former Clair Benson last spring.

FRED LAYMAN

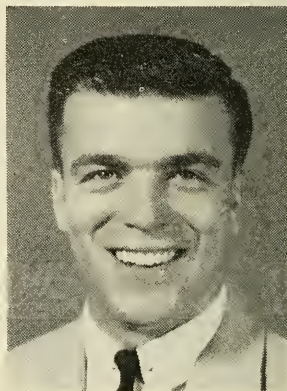

One of the most outstanding halfback prospects at Maryland during the Tatum regime, Fred Layman's collegiate football career was halted as the prospective star received a serious injury his freshman year the last day of spring practice. At the time, Layman, newly appointed varsity assistant coach replacing Vernon Seibert, was running second team halfback as a freshman.

Fred was hospitalized for six months and after his recovery, he returned to school the fall of 1952 to complete his education. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree this August from the School of Business and Public Administration, majoring in Transportation.

For the past two seasons he has been freshman backfield coach. His appointment to full-time duty as varsity assistant coach was announced July 1. Besides his coaching duties he will be working secretary of the Terrapin Club, and Concessions Manager.

Layman, native of Brentwood, Pa., was a three year letterman in football, basketball, and tennis at Brentwood High School. Following graduation he spent a semester at Kiski Prep before enrolling at Colgate in February '51. He transferred to Maryland in the fall of '51. He was a quarterback in High School, Prep School and at Colgate. With a fine group of quarterbacks on hand at Maryland, Tatum moved him to halfback where he made quite an impression. It was believed he would have been one of the Terp's best until his injury.

Fred is married to the former Jane Murray of Brentwood.

THE TRAINERS

ALFRED J. "DUKE" WYRE

Beginning his ninth year as head trainer of Maryland athletic teams, Duke came to College Park with Tatum in 1947. It was his long and reputable experience that convinced Tatum he had one of the top trainers in the country.

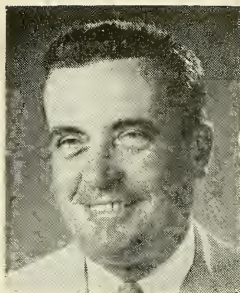

He has authored many articles and manuals on training methods and is kept busy spreading the good word of the best methods of training athletic teams through many lectures.

The "Dapper Duke" was trainer at Yale for 15 years before he moved to Holy Cross for another year. Then in '47, he came to Maryland and joined Tatum.

A Navy Veteran, Wyre served as a physical education instructor in the V-12 program.

He was the first president of the Southern Conference Trainer's Assn. He is on the board of the National Trainer's Assn. In '49, he was named the top trainer in the East.

Duke, and his assistant, John Lacey, pride themselves in having one of the best equipped and most modern training rooms in the country.

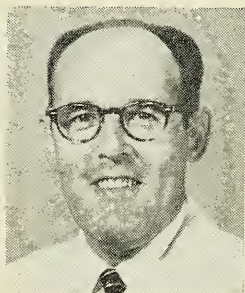

JOHN E. LACEY

When the Maryland athletic program reached its peak, the necessity for a full-time assistant trainer became inevitable. So in 1951, another Ivy-Leaguer, John Lacey came highly recommended by his associates. The popular and capable Lacey is the first full-time assistant trainer the Terps have had.

A native of Connecticut, Lacey studied and graduated from Tilton Academy, N. H.

He, too, has had vast experience with athletic teams. Before coming to Maryland, Lacey was assistant trainer at Yale for three years. He also had long experience with pro teams. In early pro training seasons, he had been trainer for the Chicago Cardinals, the New York Yanks, and was with the Baltimore Colts in 1950.

Following the football season, Lacey travels with the basketball and lacrosse teams.

THE 1955 TERPS

Maryland's 1955 football team, at an early glance prior to the squad even putting on a pad before fall practice begins 1 September, should be another outstanding edition of Jim Tatum's coaching tenure at College Park.

The Terps, who ran into a little trouble at the beginning of the 1954 season, came along in their expected strong fashion by mid-season as the all-important quarterback and tackle positions molded into the usual fine category that have always been a strong point in the Maryland attack.

Maryland lost 14 lettermen, including the entire starting backfield of quarterback Charles Boxold, halfbacks Ronnie Waller and Joe Horning, and fullback Dick Bielski. Another loss in the backfield was fullback George Albrecht. Up front they will be minus tackles Ray Blackburn, Ralph Baiert, and Dick Shipley; guards Jack Bowersox, George Palačunik, and Tom McLuckie; and centers John Irvine, Don Brougner, and Dick O'Donnell.

Returning are 20 lettermen from the '54 squad. They include five ends, four tackles, two guards, one center, five halfbacks, two quarterbacks, and one fullback.

The early prediction on the Maryland team is that the line will be one of the fastest since Tatum came to College Park in 1947. The backfield also has fine speed and experienced finesse, led by a great one-platoon quarterback, Baltimore's Frank Tamburello.

Leading the charges on the forward wall will be center and All-America candidate Bob Pellegrini. Tatum considers him to be one of the finest football players he has ever coached. He was acclaimed highly for his playing last year as a junior and certainly as co-captain is being counted upon to lead Maryland through its tough ten-game schedule. Along with Pellegrini up front are five veteran ends, led by Bill Walker, second team All-America last year, and Russell Dennis, an outstanding two-way end. They are backed up by Tim Flynn, Jim Parsons, Jean Waters and newcomers Bob Alexander, Dick Porter and Bill Turner.

The tackle situation has improved greatly, with Ed Heuring and Mike Sandusky—two of the finest tackle prospects we have had since the days of Modzelewski, Morgan, Jones, Moss, and Krouse. Both are big and strong and extremely fast. They are backed up by still adequate replacements in Al Wharton, Joe Lazzarino, and newcomers Don Healy, a super frosh; Stan Polyanski, Dick Bittner, and Tom Stefl.

At the guard position, the Terps seem well fixed with a great prospect handling the right side in junior Jack Davis, being compared to the outstanding feats of Maryland's all-time All-America guard Bob Ward. He will be backed up by a pair of B team sophs in Ron Athey, Nick DeCicco, and Bob Griffith, up from the frosh team. On the left side is the fast Gene Dyson, the Terps' top shotput and discus man, along with George Kolarac, Bob Suchy, and Paul Tonetti.

To spell Pellegrini, whom Tatum believes could be the "Lineman of

THE OUTLOOK FOR OUR OPPONENTS AS REPORTED BY THEIR PUBLICITY DIRECTORS

University of Missouri

By BILL CALLAHAN

Short perhaps on experience and overall savvy, Missouri will field a young, eager football team this fall—one with more speed in the line and backfield than any of its predecessors in recent years.

Loss of seven first-stringers, including three-fourths of the Tigers' starting backfield, means that Mizzou Coach Don Faurot must do plenty of remodeling. Of his 17 veteran returnees, only four were regulars in '54—Tony Karakas, center; Al Portney, tackle; Harold Burnine, end; and Jimmy Hunter, quarterback.

Burnine understudied Jack Hurley, regular right end, over most of the season, starting the last two games when Hurley was lost with a knee injury. Hunter, who took over the No. 1 left-half job late in the campaign, was switched to quarterback last spring.

Chief among M. U.'s talent losses off the 1954 club, which fashioned a 4-5-1 record and a tie for third in the Big Seven standings, were quarterbacks Vic Eaton and Tony Scardino—the loop's two best passers—fullback Bob Bauman, and four senior ends.

Missouri's hopes for an improved defensive team this autumn hinge around the fitness of two senior linebackers, Terry Roberts and Bobby Gooch, who return to grid warfare after undergoing knee operations last year. Also back from service is Jim Martin, chunky guard, who was regular middle-man in M. U.'s 1952 defensive line.

With a new backfield built around the 195-pound Hunter at Quarterback, Mizzou will turn loose a speedy halfbacking duo of John Powell and Joe Wynn—and a ramming fullback in Gene Roll, 210-pound plunger. Hunter and Roll lettered as sophomores last year while Powell spent the season in drydock with a shoulder separation. Wynn was the yearlings' No. 1 fullback in 1954.

Wynn, tackles Frank Czapla and Don Hopkins, and guards Bob Lee and Julius Jenson are the rookie newcomers most apt to be playing on the first two Tiger elevens this fall.

M. U.'s line will be fortified by an All-Big Seven tackle, swarthy Al Portney, and will include the loop's best pass-catcher in '54, Harold Burnine. He caught 22 aerials for 405 yards.

U.C.L.A.

By VIC KELLEY

Don't look for U.C.L.A.'s two-time Pacific Coast Conference and 1954 National Champions to come up with anything like the team that beat Maryland, 12-7, in Los Angeles last fall. But by the same token, don't look for the Bruins to be pushovers. Teams coached by Red Sanders never are.

Sanders has lost seven of the 11 starters from the 1954 Maryland game and nine of the 11 regulars at the end of the season.

But back again will be blasting Bob Davenport, the fullback who shredded the middle of the Terrapin line, carrying the amazing total of 23 times for 87 yards and both U.C.L.A. touchdowns. And also returning is Wingback Jim Decker, whose 96 yards and 12-yard average kept Maryland at bay part of the time.

Also back is starting Tailback Doug Bradley, who gave way later in the season to the now graduated Primo Villanueva, and Center Steve Palmer, who performed for no less than 56 minutes for ailing Captain Johnny Peterson.

But gone is the massive and unyielding line anchored by All-Americans Jack Ellena and Jim Salisbury. And gone are the ranging and troublesome Bob Long and Bob Haydenfeldt at the ends. Much of the vaunted depth of the '54 team has graduated, too.

In their places are a good line, even if it fails to reach greatness. At the wings will probably be Left End Johnny Hermann, the made-over Wingback, and 205-pound Rommie Loudd, who was switched from the left to right side of the line. Loudd was the top receiver last season and is a great threat. Hermann will undoubtedly be under-rated.

The tackles, Gil Moreno on the right and Roger White on the left, with ex-center Jack McKay and Preston Dills, will have to give tremendous come-through performances to even come close to the capabilities of Ellena and running-mate Joe Ray.

Lettermen Jim Brown and Hardiman Cureton (200 and 220) should be top performers, but depth is uncertain here, too.

Lack of overall manpower and the essence of "greatness" are the items that disturb the Bruin coach. The 1954 reputation is one for all teams to shoot at. And Maryland catches U.C.L.A. one week after rugged Texas A & M gets through with them.

But if the Maryland-U.C.L.A. encounter is half the hard-hitting game the 1954 tilt was, it'll still be the greatest game in America on Sept. 24.

Here's the Bruin situation from Red Sanders, the man who just a year ago said U.C.L.A.'s 1954 team would be the best he'd ever had and picked SC to play in the Rose Bowl: "On a factual basis, you think of a football team in terms of 11 men. When you recognize that we lost 9 of the 11 starts from last year's team, you must recognize that we have a large rebuilding job to do. With the entire first string line gone, we'll have some pretty inexperienced linemen. In addition, U.C.L.A. is undertaking the most difficult schedule we have ever faced. Geographically, it is conceivable that we are meeting the top teams in their sections. Maryland is No. 1 in the East and Southeast and maybe No. 1 in the country; Texas A & M is a top contender in the Southwest Conference; Iowa may certainly be tops in the Big 10; and SC is the team to beat on the West Coast. There's a schedule in itself. We must face these and six other top clubs with the same sort of spirit and determination that have characterized our past teams."

Baylor University

By GEORGE WRIGHT

Returning five starters and 17 lettermen, Baylor has hopes of as good a season as was experienced in 1954, expects to have a team of approximately the same strength, comparable over-all team speed and offense-defense balance.

The Bears should have good passing, good power, own a good No. 1 team. The chief problem is lack of proven reserves, particularly at tackles and in the backfield.

Outstanding linemen are expected to include Co-Capt. Henry Gremminger, end; Tackle Bill Glass (moved from center); and Dan Miller at guard.

In Soph Doyle Traylor, Baylor expects to have as good quarterbacking and passing as it had a season ago with Bill Hooper, now graduated. The experienced No. 1 backfield also offers good power in FB Reuben Saage and RHB Weldon Holley (Co-Capt.), plus a strong breakaway threat in LHB Delbert Shofner.

The Bears offer a junior team, with 7 juniors, only 3 seniors, on their No. 1 team; 12 juniors, only 4 seniors, among their first 22 players. Best depth should be at the ends and guards.

Wake Forest College

By BILL HENSLEY

Wake Forest is looking for one of its best teams in recent years in 1955 and the Deacons promise to prove troublesome for their opponents.

Coach Tom Rogers is optimistic despite a schedule which includes games with every team in the Atlantic Coast Conference and three Southern Conference foes.

"I think we will have one of the most improved teams in the conference," Rogers says frankly. "We have experience, speed and more depth than in the past. I think the spirit alone could carry us a long way."

Wake Forest could start a team of 11 lettermen, most of whom have been playing together for three years. In all, 17 lettermen are on the 46-man squad. Twelve lettermen were lost, with Ed Stowers, Nick Maravic, Bob Frederick and J. C. Turner the major losses.

The Deacons' big problem is defense in the backfield. The lack of an adequate pass defense led to Wake Forest's downfall last year but it is hoped that the headaches can be cured in 1955.

Heading the returning stars is All-America tackle Bob Bartholomew. He ranks among the nation's top linemen and will spearhead the Deacons offensively and defensively. Quarterback Nick Consoles, Halfback Bill Barnes, Fullback Gerald Huth and End Jack Ladner are other stars who will carry the brunt of the T-formation attack.

Depth at quarterback with Consoles and sophomores Charlie Carpenter and Dickie Newsome available should be a strong point in the Deacons' bid for success. All are top notch passers and field generals and should add variety to the offense.

University of North Carolina

By JAKE WADE

General overall improvement is expected for the 1955 edition of the University of North Carolina football team but a tough schedule, made even tougher by the addition of Oklahoma, will make it difficult for the Tar Heels to improve on their 1954 record of four wins, five losses and one tie.

Biggest jobs with the '55 Tar Heels will be to replace five graduating lettermen guards and to come up with a starting quarterback. All the other positions are pretty much lined up.

John Jones, a letterman at tackle last season and one of the most promising linemen on the roster, has been shifted over to guard to go with Bill Koman, the only returning letterman guard. They will probably handle the starting duties.

Five boys, three of them rising sophomores, are going for the number one quarterback slot, with Ronald Marquette, one of the rising sophs, rated tops at this time. Len Bullock, who handled most of the team's QB starting assignments last season, returns, and Dave Reed, Buddy Sasser and Doug Farmer round out the list. Reed and Sasser are rising sophs and Farmer a rising junior. Bullock is a rising senior. The depth at QB will make that position much stronger for the '55 campaign than it was last season.

Ends, tackles and halfbacks should be improved and center and fullback on a par with 1954.

Syracuse University

By ARNIE BURDICK

Syracuse came fast at the end of the 1954 campaign, and Coach Ben Schwartzwalder is hoping that the Orangemen will continue to improve this fall.

He has good reason, for his line should be big, strong and agile and somewhat deeper than they were a year ago. His backs lack experience, for the most part, but potentially he has some flyers who should raise havoc with opposing defenses.

There's Jimmy Brown, for example. He's a 212-pound sprinter who should be as fine a left halfback as there is in the nation this autumn. Eddie Albright, returning regular at the important signal-calling post, enjoyed a fine spring, and he should be able to work the run-pass option series in high style.

Ed Coffin, Don Laaksonen, Ron Tyler, Bobby Hart and Billy Micho will be augmented by the returning Mark Hoffman to form the secondary.

Up front, Ben has moved End Pete Schwert and Guard Joe Krivak to center. Both looked like able linebackers. At the ends, Jimmy Ridlon and Tom Richardson, veterans, head up the list, while Jerry Cashman, Jim Podraza, Gerry Hershey and Jim Brill look like the tackles. Chuck Strid, Cal Smith, Rudy Farmer and Ed Bailey will divide the guard duties, with Bailey a standout.

It's a team which has an unusually tough schedule with Maryland, Army, Pittsburgh and West Virginia having been added this year. However, the Orange is hopeful of breaking even in that rugged company.

University of South Carolina

By DON BARTON

South Carolina's Gamecocks shape-up as a dangerous offensive football team for 1955, despite the loss of such outstanding 1954 regulars as All-America guard Frank Munceovich, all-conference center Leon Cunningham, conference blocking trophy winner fullback Bill Wohrman, tackles Harry Lovell and Gene Kopec and end Spec Granger.

The gap left by those men is enough to alarm a coach of even Rex Enright's composure.

More comforting, however, is the backfield consisting of quarterback Mackie Prickett, the 1955 Atlantic Coast total offense and passing champ, and halfbacks Mike Caskey and Carl Brazell. Caskey's 556 rushing yards and 6.7 average was second only to Ronnie Waller of Maryland in the ACC last year, and Brazell, a breakaway runner of talent, was the league's leading pass receiver.

If one of the fullbacks, sophomore Bobby Barrett, or lettermen Crosby Lewis and Jim Jarrett, produces, the Gamecocks' offense will move.

Stopping the opposition is the question.

The ends should be adequate. Julius Derrick, the star of winter practice, is ready for his first varsity action, and returning lettermen Joe Silas, Larry Gosnell, Buddy Frick, Bill Rivers and Don Schulster add to the security there.

Sophomore tackles were the most impressive in winter drills, including 225-pounder Tommy Addison and 215-pound Al Plaskey. Sam Deluca is the only returning letterman there.

Returnee Dick Covington was the regular right guard last fall, and Bill Floyd, Rick Ericsson and Bill Weston won letters. Ericsson could be the top man on the guard list, or 230-pound sophomore Harrison Sartor could make himself heard from.

Hugh Bell, an understudy to Cunningham three years, finally gets his chance to shine at center. He can compete with the best of them. A replacement for him is a problem.

When Bell needs rest non-lettermen Harry Crowley and Aubrey Reed or sophomore Charlie Johnson must be called to the rescue.

The Gamecocks face a rugged schedule and shape-up as a team that will get progressively stronger as an abundance of green men gain in experience.

Louisiana State University

By ACE HIGGINS

Coach Paul Dietzel, in his first year as head man of the Tigers, has inherited a back-breaking schedule and a small band of courageous warriors with which to negotiate the rugged road.

Talent-wise, the Bengals figure to be too thin to cause anyone too much concern. A gaping hole in the middle of the line, left by graduation vacancies of both starting tackles and the only two lettermen centers poses a hurdle that may be too much to overcome.

In case the breaches are plugged, the Tiger T may find need of additional fuel, since the two top quarterbacks of last season, Al Doggett and Win Turner, have also departed.

Add to these losses the explosive power that left when big Lou Deutschmann signed a professional baseball contract and you have the makings of a headache that would send most men diving for the aspirin bottle. An overdose would be average if those in charge ponder over the fact that one of the missing tackles is Sid Fournet, the only legitimate Tiger All-America since the hey-day of Ken Kavanaugh.

Solving these problems and others makes the success of the 1955 Tigers doubtful, but Coach Dietzel and his staff have met the challenge head on and with the available material on hand, plus several top flight sophomores and junior college transfers, the wily old Bengals could surprise a few sleeping giants this year. Fullback O. K. Ferguson, halfback Chuck Johns and end Joe Tuminello figure to be the best Tigers this year. Matt Burns, a junior is the only experienced quarterback, but he may be pushed by sophomore M. C. Reynolds. End Billy Smith, tackle Al Aucoin and guard Ed Cassidy are top soph prospects and tackle Earl Leggett (265) and guard Don Scully look like the best of the JC transfers.

Clemson College

By BRENT BREEDIN

Clemson Coach Frank Howard, a two-platoon or dual-unit advocate for the past five years, figures he might return to the one-team plan, with occasional substitutions, in 1955.

"On the basis of what I've seen in spring practice," he says, "I just don't feel we have enough experienced players at every position to be using the complete platoon system for substitution."

In one respect—injuries to players who need practice—the spring drills were a failure. Several of the most promising freshmen—tackle Johnny Thomason of Olanta, ends Bill Breedlove of Abbeville and "Whitey" Jordan of Florence, center Jack Steinbrecher of Huntington, W. Va., and halfback Harold Strange of Columbia—missed more than two-thirds of the work, causing only conjecture among the Clemson coaches.

In spring practice Dick Marazza blossomed into one of the finest tackles ever to play on Memorial Stadium turf; Joel Wells showed conclusively that his strong finish in 1954 at halfback was no fluke; and a pair of "bo'hunking" sophomores—fullback Bob Spooner and center Donnie Bunton—earned first eleven births with their hustle.

Quarterbacks Don King and Charlie Bussey, for whom the "K" and "B" football units were named last fall, looked sharp all spring. They give the Tigers two of the finest quarterbacks in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The center position will be one of the strongest if veteran standout Wingo Avery is ready. He missed all of spring practice with a sore back. Behind him are "surprise starter" Bunton and the veteran Hampton Hunter.

At guard, letterman Dick DeSimone is the bright light, while best

TERP THUMBNAIL SKETCHES

ENDS

BILL WALKER, 21, 6-0, 185, Senior from West Mifflin, Pa.—selected to the second team Associated Press All-America last Fall after following up a sensational soph year which tabbed him as a future gridiron great—one of Maryland's all-time ends . . . received United Press honorable mention All-America and first team Atlantic Coast Conference on both the Southern Writers' ballot and the Associated Press . . . received the highest honor given a lineman during his soph year as he was named the nation's "Lineman of the Week" for his great game against Alabama, both offensively and defensively . . . should have another fine year . . . loves to play . . . a smart ball player . . . has exceptional speed, a good blocker, and fine receiver . . . makes outstanding effort to catch passes . . . one of the best defensively . . . was the Terps' leading receiver last Fall with 13 receptions for 209 yards and one score . . . also team's leading punter with a 39.8 yard average for 14 punts . . . the son of a former major league baseball player with the Cardinals, Walker has led the Terp baseball team the past two campaigns . . . he hit .365 his soph year and led the team this season with a .309 average which included two homers, one triple, and three doubles . . . also led in RBI's with 19 . . . the outfielder was named to the All-Conference baseball nine this Spring . . . came to Maryland as a halfback . . . was a three year letterman in high school in football, baseball, and basketball . . . was All-WPIAL in football and baseball . . . majoring in Sociology.

RUSSELL DENNIS, 22, 6-3, 207, Senior from Norwalk, Conn.—should have the number one job on the right terminal sewed up, a duty he performed last year brilliantly . . . the big strong clever pass receiver could give Walker battle for national honors . . . excels offensively . . . fine blocker . . . the conscientious "Connecticut Yankee" plays a strong and smart defensive game . . . a hard worker with tremendous desire to excel every minute in practice as well as in a game . . . a keen competitor . . . caught six passes for 186 yards and 2 touchdowns . . . early season thoughts of coaching staff indicate big things for the star end . . . the fine looking Dennis is majoring in Public Relations.

TIMOTHY FLYNN, 21, 6-2, 190, Senior from Chevy Chase, Md.—another of the Terps' top flight ends, a position that gives them the finest corps of flank men in many years . . . Flynn, a big strong rugged boy, has had two good years, most of it from the number two team . . . has great potential but has been retarded both years by injuries . . . barring same, he should have good year . . . has all qualifications for an end—good speed, fine blocker, top receiver and a terror defensively . . . came to Maryland from Bullis Prep after brilliant career at St. John's High School in Washington . . . son of Hugh "Bingo" Flynn, former president of the Washington Touchdown Club and one of Catholic University's all-time grid greats . . . caught two passes last year for 36 yards and one score . . . a public relations major in the School of Business and Public Administration.

JIM PARSONS, 24, 6-2, 190, Senior from Washington, D. C.—following a fine junior year and a strong finish in Spring practice, Parsons, along with Flynn, will be keeping the pressure on Walker and Dennis . . . a Navy veteran who starred at Washington's Woodrow Wilson High School . . . this will be his fourth varsity term, and he has lettered his previous three years playing outstanding ball . . . excels defensively . . . makes it tough for opponent to get around him . . . smart player . . . caught three aerials for 58 yards and one TD last fall . . . majoring in Biological Science.

JEAN WATERS, 23, 6-0, 195, Junior from Charleston, S. C.—lettered last Fall as a soph . . . a fine prospect who will give the Terp fine end corps a lot of help . . . a veteran of the Army Paratroopers, Waters came to Maryland with guard Jack Davis following their discharge . . . the pair were close friends in the same unit for three years so the Carolinian decided to follow Davis to his home state and attend the University here . . . has a lot of desire and could give the boys up front trouble . . . good two-way player . . . caught one pass for 12 yards last season . . . married and has one child . . . majoring in Physical Education.

DICK PORTER, 21, 6-2, 195, Junior from Pittsburgh, Pa.—a fine prospect counted on to give a big helping hand in relief this Fall . . . played some last season but not enough to letter . . . had a good Spring practice . . . shows fine speed and has good pass catching ability . . . adequate defensively . . . won All-City honors while playing for Pittsburgh's Schenley High School . . . studying Civil Engineering.

BILL TURNER, 21, 6-3, 205, Sophomore from Silver Spring, Md.—has one of the finest chances to play a lot of ball this Fall . . . good prospect . . . held out last year to get experience . . . came along fast in Spring drills . . . has speed and fine blocker . . . plays well defensively . . . was All-State tackle at Montgomery Blair High School . . . majoring in Transportation.

BOB ALEXANDER, 19, 6-0, 195, Sophomore from Pleasant Hills, Pa.—a four-sport letterman at Baldwin High School, Alexander joins the Terp end corps with a promising future . . . hard worker . . . has the desire . . . sure to be tested this Fall . . . majoring in Animal Husbandry.

JOE PONZO, along with freshmen BILL STEPPE, BILL MARTIN, and ED COOKE, also are varsity candidates at end.

TACKLES

MIKE SANDUSKY, 19, 5-11, 235, Junior from Manville, N. J.—one of Maryland's finest tackles in Tatum regime . . . along with ED HEURING, the rugged Sandusky priming himself for stardom to take his place alongside of other great Terp tackles . . . Coach Bob Ward says he is one of the best . . . has tremendous strength which he uses at all times on the field . . . great blocker and a demon on defense . . . has a quick charge and a lot of savvy in play diagnosis . . . moved in at middle of last Fall to eliminate the severe tackle problem that existed first five games . . . came to Maryland as high school heavyweight champion of New Jersey . . . was undefeated as a Terp frosh then won the Conference heavyweight title last Winter . . . threw the shot and discus this Spring . . . a terrific 3-sport athlete . . . continued to raise eyebrows with fine Spring practice . . . should have a great year . . . worth watching for high honors . . . majoring in Animal Husbandry.

ED HEURING, 20, 6-0, 215, Junior from Rochester, Pa.—the other boy who broke into the starting line in mid-season to give the Terps their much needed outstanding tackle play . . . has exceptional strength and is quick as a cat . . . moves well either way . . . could be the best tackle . . . blasts away efficiently all the way . . . has good speed, one of the finest blockers and surest of all defensively . . . along with SANDUSKY, the front line tackle situation seems well fortified, reminiscent of the old days of two and three years ago when big strong tackles were a "must" on Tatum's teams . . . a three-sport letterman at Rochester High School . . . named on the All-County All-America team his senior year . . . bears careful watching this Fall . . . lettered as a soph . . . majoring in Criminology.

AL WHARTON, 20, 6-1, 215, Junior from Sewickley, Pa.—as an outstanding tackle prospect, Wharton, after overcoming early injuries that kept him out a year, lettered last Fall as he too came in to help plug the gap at the tackle slot . . . did an outstanding job, as he fulfilled early prediction of Tatum that he would be another great tackle . . . best remembered last season for his crashing head-on tackle of Miami's Gordon Malloy . . . the big "red head" has top speed and real good defensive skill . . . keen competitor . . . was All-State and All-Western Pennsylvania in high school . . . a Pre-Dental student.

JOE LAZZARINO, 20, 6-4, 235, Junior from Brooklyn, N. Y.—another of the big fine tackles coming back for his second season after lettering his soph year when he was inserted into the lineup to help the early tackle problem . . . performed like a veteran and will be out to push for a number one job . . . a real lean and mean product with tremendous power and unused potential . . . was injured in an auto accident over Christmas holidays at home and was out most of Spring ball . . . came back for final week of drills and was like a "tiger" . . . is sure to be a top performer, giving the Terp tackle corps adequate strength . . . majoring in Commercial Art.

STAN POLYANSKI, 20, 6-4, 220, Junior from Baltimore, Md.—has the potential to make it most uncomfortable for the boys in front of him . . . played some last year, getting needed experience . . . did good work in Spring practice and is being counted on to play a lot of ball . . . has good reaction and added a lot of aggressiveness this Spring . . . an honor student majoring in Marketing.

TOM STEFL, 20, 6-1, 220, Sophomore from Brownsville, Pa.—fine prospect held out last year for experience . . . the big raw-boned Pre-Med student ready now to step into lineup for a lot of duty . . . has fine potential . . . aggressiveness will help, has the desire . . . a Pre-Medical student.

DON HEALY, 18, 6-3, 240, Sophomore from Rome, N. Y.—this boy showed more as a freshman last year than any tackle in history of Tatum regime . . . really raised the eyebrows in Spring ball as he was in and out of the first string lineup . . . Tatum says that as a frosh, he was way ahead of any other Terp tackle at the same time, meaning that he has exhibited more than the big names of Krouse, Modzelewski, Moss, Morgan, and Jones did when they were yearlings . . . has a big frame that is all worth a lot of football . . . excels both offensively and defensively . . . will bear watching as season progresses for he seems sure bet to play a great deal . . . will be hard to keep him out . . . in School of Business and Public Administration.

GUARDS

came along to play sensational ball his soph year, earning his letter, and leads the highly respectable crew of guards for this Fall . . . many observers have tabbed him another "Bob Ward" and his All-America line coach agrees that Davis is one of the finest he has seen . . . excels both ways with a fabulous quick charge offensively that literally blasts out the opposing lineman . . . follows the play well with uncanny pursuit . . . loves it rough and is a sure tackler . . . a veteran of three years duty in the Paratroopers, Davis brought his GI friend, Jean Waters with him to Maryland—the South Carolinian broke into the lineup as a soph and also lettered . . . this could be a great season for the eager guard . . . married and has a daughter Deborah . . . majoring in Public Relations.

GENE DYSON, 20, 6-2, 205, Junior from Brentwood, L. I., N. Y.—after B-teaming it for a year the strong Dyson broke into the lineup last Fall, then really showed his wares this Spring and won a starting job on the left side . . . worked hard for the job and has the good football skills to keep the assignment . . . outstanding blocker, both initial and downfield . . . good defense . . . lettered on the track team as top distance man, throwing shot and discus . . . a Physical Education major.

GEORGE KOLARAC, 20, 5-10, 200, Junior from Harrisburg, Pa.—along with Davis, a returning letterman . . . had a real good soph year spelling the front line guards . . . has come along fast showing his expected form in Spring practice . . . one of the team's most serious and most keen competitors . . . has a strong desire to play . . . good reactions accompany his mobility . . . likes to mix it up, especially defensively . . . is hard to fool . . . was honorable mention All-State at Harrisburg Catholic High School . . . majoring in Physical Education . . . married and has one son.

NICK DeCICCO, 19, 5-11, 215, Sophomore from Brooklyn, N. Y.—with a fine year on the B-squad and a good Spring practice, "Nick" will be counted on heavily for the number two line which should see as much duty as the front line . . . will be out to make it tough for Davis and Dyson . . . a real good prospect with keen desire to make good . . . has power and a lot of know-how . . . blocks well and does most adequately on defense . . . self confidence will help . . . ability and potential there . . . in School of Business majoring in Transportation.

RONALD ATHEY, 20, 6-0, 200, Sophomore from Cumberland, Md.—another in a long line of fine football players from Cumberland's Fort Hill High School and Bill Hahn's tutelage . . . a real promising prospect . . . did well in Spring drills and was running in and out of the first line . . . sure to work on the second eleven and will be going all out for a starting berth . . . has good equipment for two-way football . . . one of strongest men on squad . . . was All-State and honorable mention high school All-America . . . majoring in Industrial Education.

BOB SUCHY, 6-2, 215, Sophomore from Baltimore, Md.—still another of the fine guard candidates . . . has gained so much more confidence in his ability after being held out last season . . . put in a fine exhibition during Spring practice when he made a good impression . . . after a bit of battle he should be a big help . . . big strong boy with good action and attitude . . . played lacrosse after spring practice . . . studying Civil Engineering.

BOB GRIFFITH, 19, 6-0, 210, Sophomore from Monogahela, Pa.—with PAUL TONETTI, the Terps have come up with two outstanding guard prospects . . . Griffith is a real package of dynamite . . . does good job offensively and is like a bear on defense . . . drives all the time and has taken as well as dished out a lot of punishment for a yearling . . . never stops working . . . lean and mean . . . likes it rough . . . has speed, power, desire and most efficient ball player . . . in Pre-Dental School.

PAUL TONETTI 18, 6-2, 205, Sophomore from Massapequa, N. Y.—the other half of the top pair of guards that had a sensational year as frosh . . . like "Griff", the quiet-spoken New-Yorker is dynamite on the field . . . a hard worker with tremendous desire . . . certain to be heard from as a soph . . . loves the game . . . has great possibilities . . . should get bigger which won't hurt him . . . has the frame for heavy duty . . . quick charge and good mobility . . . a standout defensively . . . will bear watching.

DICK WEBER, 19, 5-11, 195, Sophomore from Braddock, Pa.—has the potential and certainly the desire to become a real fine guard substitute . . . improvement and confidence will come with experience . . . this he could master this Fall . . . did a good job as a frosh and worked hard in Spring practice . . . good guy for squad morale.

CENTERS

BOB PELLEGRINI, 21, 6-3, 225, Senior from Yatesboro, Pa.—the Terps' top flight All-America candidate and as Tatum expounds, "He could easily be the Nation's 'Lineman of the Year' " . . . this explains the tremendous feeling the coaching staff and numerous others who have observed Bob in his two previous years as an outstanding guard have for his football ability . . . when the center situation became severe after all three veteran lettermen graduated, Tatum took his star lineman and moved him to center, knowing that he could be the one to best fill the big gap . . . the move, as shown in Spring practice, proved to be the right one as Pellegrini looked like a veteran at the position . . . always a tremendous offensive man at his old guard spot, he continued to give a top offensive performance . . . defensively, he is one of Maryland's all-time best . . . is one of the game's top attractions for the fans and press with his spectacular tackling, pursuit . . . very aggressive . . . seldom does a play get by him . . . was praised by all opposing coaches and players last year as a junior . . . U.C.L.A.'s "Red" Sanders said he was one of the best he has seen . . . in the Miami game, "Rocky" set a new Orange Bowl record for tackles and assists . . . he made 12 "solo" tackles and assisted on seven others . . . the old record of nine had stood since 1940 . . . Miami coach Andy Gustafson, on a visit to College Park this Spring personally asked Bob to be a member of his South All-Star game next Christmas for the Shrine game . . . at the close of last season, his teammates voted him "the outstanding lineman of the '54 team" . . . he received the coveted Anthony C. Nardo Memorial Trophy, a former Terp lineman in whose memory the award is given . . . was most outstanding each game . . . played with the first team a great deal of the time, especially after mid-season . . . received honorable mention All-America on United Press team . . . made All-Conference second teams . . . the Charlotte News picked him on its first team . . . he is expected to lead the Terp forward wall and be the mainstay on defense . . . the Terp co-captain was a star quarterback in high school but wisely moved to the line when he came to Maryland . . . should be one of Tatum's finest products . . . majoring in Physical Education.

FRED TULLAI, 24, 6-0, 200, Senior from Essington, Pa.—stayed out last season but has come back for his last year and should help the center job . . . does a real good job on offense and is adequate defensively . . . was a reserve center his other two years . . . counted on to be the number two center . . . married this Summer . . . a Marine veteran . . . in School of Business and Public Administration, majoring in Marketing.

GENE ALDERTON, 20, 6-0, 190, Sophomore from Cumberland, Md.—Gene should be a very valuable addition to the pivot spot this Fall . . . strong boy who loves to play and likes to mix it up . . . not as big as centers usually go, but his potential and ability more than make the difference . . . good blocker with fine speed . . . has fine defensive skill . . . will be after the second team job and could do it . . . top student . . . majoring in Industrial Education.

WILBUR MAIN, 21, 6-2, 195, Junior from Frederick, Md.—comes to the Terps this Fall as a transfer student from Potomac State Junior College, same school as Paul Nestor and Pete Ladygo attended before coming to Maryland . . . is highly recommended and definitely will help the center situation . . . word comes that he was one of their best.

RONALD LANEVE, 18, 6-2, 205, Sophomore from Pittsburgh, Pa.—an outstanding prospect up from last year's fine freshman team . . . is a tower of strength of both offense and defense . . . made quite an impression in Spring practice . . . has the potential to come through and make it tough on the veterans . . . one of Terp's finest center prospects . . . was a top performer at Pittsburgh's South Hill High School.

QUARTERBACKS

FRANK TAMBURELLO, 20, 5-10, 185, Junior from Baltimore, Md.—the clever Baltimorean comes along as a junior to give Maryland another great Split-T signal calling genius . . . follows in the popular line of Tatum quarterbacks of Scarbath, Faloney, and Boxold . . . made it evident that he would be another top QB for Tatum as a freshman, when he had a big year . . . was an All-State QB at Patterson Park his senior year after coming there from Mt. St. Joseph High . . . also on the all-star lacrosse and ice hockey teams . . . a real triple threat quarterback who can run, pass, punt, call an outstanding sequence of plays and also rate as the best defender in the secondary . . . he does all this and does it well . . . the "nifty Tambo" is like a carbon copy of the Terps' great Bernie Faloney of the '53 season . . . his ability as an all-around top QB is recognized since he is most efficient and capable of top performances in each phase of his duties . . . was second man last Fall until he hit his peak about mid-season then tucked the job away . . . led the Terps to victories their last five games . . . made an indelible impression and was recognized across the country for getting the Terps on the way to big victories . . . he should be one of the nation's finest this Fall as a junior . . . will be the key man in the attack . . . is tremendous defensive player . . . his two interceptions in last year's Kentucky opener, his first collegiate game, led to two Maryland scores . . . was the team's leading pass thief with four interceptions for 140 yards . . . sharp tackler also . . . made many saving tackles in the secondary . . . completed 15 of 35 aerials for 248 yards and three TDs . . . scored three himself, one an interception return of 57 yards against Missouri . . . top punter with a 34.6 yard average for 15 punts . . . very accurate passer, both short and long heaves . . . also a good punt and kickoff return man . . . one of the fastest boys on the squad which makes him more dangerous as a running fool off the QB option . . . played lacrosse this Spring and was one of the unsung stars . . . lettered as a midfielder . . . with an expected good ball club, all eyes will be on the slick "Tambo" . . . a Pre-Law student, "Tambo" is an excellent LEADER for the squad . . . a very serious boy about the game and a terrific competitor.

LYNN BEIGHTOL, 21, 5-11, 185, Senior from Cumberland, Md.—one of the nation's most sought after high school quarterbacks . . . has lettered three years for the Terps . . . was considered to be the best QB prospect ever at Maryland when he came in '51 . . . when the rule change came from two-platoon football, Lynn seemed to become a victim of the change which required two-way skill . . . not having played defense in high school as he was making fame as a great quarterback with a terrific throwing arm, he has had to work hard learning the defensive phase . . . last season he saw the outstanding "Tambo" take over because of his defensive ability . . . this Spring Beightol looked great on defense and seems now ready to be a fine two-way signal caller . . . will alternate with "Tambo" . . . a dandy offensive man . . . has one of the finest throwing arms of any former Terp QB . . . a fine runner and he too, has top play calling sequence . . . the baby-faced father of three children has exceptional natural offensive ability . . . had a 44.4 yard punting average for nine boots, one a beaut of 79 yards seen across the nation on TV Thanksgiving day against Missouri . . . had 4 completions for 12 attempts . . . one a TD . . . looked his best in Spring practice and again in Varsity-Alumni game . . . All-State QB for two years at Fort Hill High School . . . player of year award also for two years . . . a Pre-Med student.

RALPH HAWKINS, 20, 5-10, 185, Sophomore from Washington, D. C.—another fine QB prospect . . . did a good job last year on B team . . . got a lot of valuable experience . . . a hard and serious worker . . . ready for varsity duty . . . good two-way boy with plenty of defensive finesse . . . has top offensive potential . . . good passer, runner, and punter . . . could even play halfback if needed there . . . was All-Metropolitan three years in football, basketball, and baseball at St. John's High School . . . majoring in Criminology.

BOB RUSEVLYAN, 19, 6-0, 175, Sophomore from Washington, D. C.—this wiry little package of football player looks like real dynamite . . . did an outstanding job with the Terp frosh last year . . . good passer and clever runner . . . elusive and hard to bring down . . . has exceptional defensive skill for such a little guy . . . shows a lot of guts with his desire and determination to play . . . he too could be utilized at halfback . . . was All-Metropolitan in both football and basketball at St. John's.

FRED PETRELLA, 19, 5-11, 210, Sophomore from Baltimore, Md.—big strong stocky boy who performed with the B team last Fall . . . with more experience, he should help the signal calling spot . . . is a fine passer . . . good runner as well . . . wants to play, so could make himself heard from early this Fall . . . a star at Baltimore's Polytechnic High School.

JOHN FRITSCH, 18, 6-0, 185, Sophomore from Carnegie, Pa.—and WILLIAM JOHN-STONE, 18, 6-0, 175, Sophomore from Niagara Falls, N. Y., are two outstanding boys up from the frosh team . . . FRITSCH helped a great deal in leading the baby Terps to a good year . . . both fine boys . . . conscientious workers and good students . . . FRITSCH from Bernie Faloney's High School.

HALFBACKS

ED VEREB, 21, 6-0, 185, Senior from Pittsburgh, Pa.—Co-Captain Eddie falls in line as another of the Terps' great halfbacks . . . played and lettered both previous years as he was one of the finest ball carriers of the fine corps the Terps had . . . expected to be the big offensive gun for Maryland this Fall . . . a well-knit boy with a lot of guts who loves the game . . . has top speed and has a real good change of pace and can cut well to either side . . . at times he "bulls" his way over would-be tacklers . . . a real power runner to go with his speed and finesse . . . due to give flashy performances . . . an outstanding leader is this soft-spoken star . . . a real competitor, type needed for the leadership Maryland will need for a winning season . . . Eddie a top defensive back . . . has a lot of skill in the secondary and with his quickness and savvy offers a very alert defender against opponents' aerials . . . with his mobility, he pursues running plays well . . . a sure tackler . . . had a good year last Fall as number two left halfback . . . averaged eight yards a carry, picking up 135 yards in 17 attempts . . . he scored twice . . . good man on punt and kickoff returns . . . returned five punts for 58 yards and two kickoffs for 38 . . . intercepted one pass . . .

was an outstanding star for Pittsburgh's Central Catholic team for three years . . . worth watching for stardom . . . a Pre-Med Student, and a good one.

HOWARD DARE, 20, 5-11, 185, Junior from Baltimore, Md.—fulfilled all expectations from a great freshman year as he broke into the starting right halfback post as a soph . . . Howie doesn't run, he gallops . . . played brilliantly last Fall as he averaged 6.3 yards per carry . . . a terrific runner, a good passer and is a threat at receiving passes . . . has a good strong frame . . . has a terrific running style that makes him extremely dangerous and hard to bring down . . . elusive type runner . . . had a big Spring practice . . . looked more than adequate on defense . . . his speed, like Vereb and the other Terp halfbacks, makes him a top defensive halfback . . . caught seven passes for 104 yards and two TD's . . . scored four all told . . . threw once for an eight yard completion . . . returned four punts for 26 yards and two kickoffs for 77 yards . . . will keep hustling to keep job . . . a big star at Baltimore's Poly High School making the All-Maryland team . . . another Terp star in the making . . . In School of Business and Public Administration.

DAVE NUSZ, 21, 5-10, 180, Senior from Avalon, Pa.—the slick fast-stepping Nusz had a big year last season and made his mark for another expected to be even better . . . was a real pleasant surprise as he rambled easily with his high-kicking stride . . . one of the fastest boys on the squad . . . seems to have come into his own . . . didn't let anybody down in Spring ball . . . had a fine exhibition and tabbed himself for a big year . . . will be pushing the boys ahead of him on the number one unit . . . averaged 8.4 yards in 20 carries last Fall . . . scored twice . . . returned two punts . . . another good boy in the secondary on defense . . . picked off two enemy aerials . . . married this Summer to Maryland co-ed . . . a Physical Education major.

DICK BURGEE, 21, 5-10, 130, Senior from Frederick, Md.—Dick did a fine job last Fall in relieving the front-running backs . . . carried but seven times and averaged 16.4 yards, one a 90-yard jaunt in the Missouri game to set a new Terp record for longest rush from scrimmage . . . loves to play as shown when he commuted from Maryland Law School in Baltimore all last Fall for practice . . . an honor student in Law School . . . missed Spring ball so he could devote full time for study . . . plays defense adequately . . . is married.

JACK HEALY, 19, 5-11, 185, Sophomore from Brooklyn, N. Y.—after performing like a real pro as a frosh, Jack ran on the B team last Fall and continued to create quite a lot of excitement . . . maintained this terrific pace during Spring ball and is a bet to be one of the big stars this Fall . . . a real speedster with tremendous drive in his powerful legs . . . one of the best defensive backs on the squad . . . has tremendous desire and will to play . . . won New York State's coveted Lou Gehrig Award for excellence in athletics and academics as well as the Lenny Singer Award, a similar recognition . . . a Public Relations major.

JOHN McVICKER, 19, 5-9, 185, Sophomore from Cumberland, Md.—if only this boy would explore his potential, he could be one of the greatest backs in Terp history . . . shows flashes of brilliance many times . . . looked exceptional again in Spring practice . . . a standout for the B team last Fall . . . if and when he releases this potential, he could make an indelible impression and make the boys really hustle to keep their jobs . . . an All-Stater in football at Fort Hill High School . . . a three-year letterman in football, basketball, and track . . . won Hazelwood Award and Player of Year Award his senior year . . . in School of Arts and Science.

HAROLD HULL, 19, 5-9, 185, Sophomore from Cumberland, Md.—a good rugged boy and a teammate of McVicker's at Fort Hill . . . they were known as the "Touchdown Twins" . . . now they are known as the "Gold Dust Twins" . . . a lot similar ball player . . . runs hard with good speed and finesse . . . had a good Spring practice . . . does an excellent job defensively . . . should easily break into the varsity lineup . . . majoring in Industrial Education.

PHIL PERLO, 19, 5-11, 175, Sophomore from Washington, D. C.—this little guy another package of dynamite who is sure to be a help, quite possibly this year . . . has a lot of knowhow . . . one of the best upcoming prospects . . . can and has played both quarterback and halfback . . . plays with reckless abandon . . . fine defensive halfback . . . bears watching for he will be out to make the varsity squad . . . All-Metropolitan.

FRED HAMILTON, 19, 5-11, 185, Sophomore from Freeport, Pa.—this highly sought after boy is one of the brightest looking prospects to hit the Terp camp in a long time . . . was a tremendous 60-minute man for the frosh last year . . . wants to play football more than anything else . . . a February '54 frosh, so he has gained very valuable experience with frosh year plus two Spring practices . . . his first Spring practice raised all eyebrows and caused Tatum to remark that he would like to have him playing for the varsity last Fall . . . Fred is one of the keenest defensive backs seen in many a moon . . . he could have been playing on the first unit, according to the Terp boss . . . a real rugged boy with great power and most of all he possesses delirious desire to play football . . . a real fine offensive back to go along with his defensive skills . . . Freshman Coach "Whitey" Dovell predicts nothing but greatness for him . . . excelled in Spring ball . . . can be used at either halfback and might be seen at fullback this Fall . . . when slight injuries kept the fullbacks out of action a couple scrimmages this Spring, Tatum had the squat swiftness running on the first unit at fullback besides alternating him on either side as a halfback . . . very difficult to keep him out of play . . . keen reactions . . . bubbles over with enthusiasm when it gets rough, the way he likes it . . . a star player at little Freeport High School . . . majoring in Physical Education.

FULLBACKS

TOM SELEP, 21, 6-1, 195, Senior from California, Pa.—came through last Fall as a pleasant surprise and at times looked like the best running fullback of the lot . . . has great potential which can be promised to be utilized this Fall . . . had a 5.7-yard average for 27 rushes . . . is probably the fastest fullback the Terps have had in quite a number of years . . . sprints like a halfback once he gets a bit of daylight beyond the line of scrimmage . . . has come a long way since sophomore year . . . likes to bull his way over tacklers . . . has a strong pair of legs which gives him so much more powerful charge . . . looked extremely good in Spring practice . . . Tom also a giant on defense . . . has good play diagnosis and is tough competitor . . . one of the best tacklers on the team . . . besides his fine offensive and defensive ability. Selep is another "Big Toe" at place-kicking . . . kicked 5-7 extra points last season and boots the ball far downfield on kickoffs . . . being counted on to be one of the big guns in the Terp attack for '55 . . . a three-sport three year letterman in high school . . . averaging over "B" work in Engineering.

JIM SKARDA, 20, 6-1, 205, Junior from Baltimore, Md.—this boy has great possibilities but question is, just when will they show . . . staff hopes this Fall . . . came around good near end of season and had a fine Spring practice . . . Jim has all that it takes to be a great fullback . . . some days he looks like a million dollars as he performs brilliantly both on offense and defense . . . what coaches want is consistent performance, which Jim could do . . . a powerful runner with average speed . . . also good place-kicker . . . had 1-2 last Fall . . . a defensive stalwart and when he wants he is untouchable on defense . . . Terps need this boy for a lot of top-flight duty this Fall . . . a good student in Engineering.

BILL KOMLO, 20, 6-0, 200, Sophomore from Uniontown, Pa.—came to Maryland as one of all-time top fullback prospects . . . still is . . . played on the B team last Fall to get experience and has shown vast improvement . . . another boy with tremendous stored up potential . . . has the framework to make him explosive . . . Komlo is a murderous line plunger with adequate speed . . . his wickedness as a battering type fullback makes him a leading candidate to pull a few surprises this Fall . . . will be after the number one job so will keep Selep and Skarda hustling . . . if his potential materializes, he could be fierce . . . is a very effective defensive player as a linebacker . . . follows the play well and tackles with great impetus and sureness . . . has great ability also at place-kicking . . . gets a lot of mileage from his powerful right leg . . . married and has a daughter . . . in School of Agriculture majoring in Pre-Veterinarian . . . should be a big help . . . he will be needed.

Bill Guckeyson for 51 yards in 10 punts against Syracuse in 1936. (Note: Brewer against Syracuse in 1920 and Guckeyson against Florida in 1936 both averaged better than 60 yards but official figures could not be obtained from these schools and papers didn't carry the punting statistics.)

LONGEST PUNT RETURN:

Dick Nolan—90 yards—against Clemson for TD in 1953.

MOST PUNT RETURNS FOR SEASON:

Bob Shemonski—28 for 505 yards in 1950 in 10 games.

LONGEST KICKOFF RETURNS:

90 yards and TD—Lewis Thomas against Washington College in 1927; Bill Guckeyson against Georgetown in 1935; Sam Behr against Virginia in 1945; Dick Nolan against Mississippi in 1952.

LONGEST FIELD GOAL:

Dick Bielski, 47 yards against Mississippi in 1953.

LONGEST PUNT RETURN AGAINST MARYLAND:

Frank Brady of Navy for 100 yards and touchdown in 1951.

LONGEST KICKOFF RETURN AGAINST MARYLAND:

Jim McPherson of North Carolina for 93 yards and TD in 1926.

LONGEST PUNT AGAINST MARYLAND:

Charlie Justice of North Carolina for 84 yards in 1948.

the Year" will be veteran Fred Tullai and a pair of newcomers in Gene Alderton and Ron Laneve. Help could come from a Potomac State transfer—Wilbur Main, product of Frederick, Md.

The Terp backfield suffered a severe loss this summer when Freddie Lee, Walton, W. Va., was killed in an auto accident near his home. He was due to be one of the key backs in Terp plans for this season. Lee could have been used at either halfback and could have been inserted at quarterback if needed. He was one of the very best defensive halfbacks who would have been utilized at either corner or at safety. This will be one of the big problems to iron out in early fall practice.

Otherwise, the starting foursome will be Tamburello, Co-Captain Ed Vereb, another tremendous Terp halfback to go along with such other greats as Ed Fullerton, Bob Shemonski, Chet Hanulak, Dick Nolan, Ronnie Waller, Joe Horning and others on the left side. He will be helped by Dave Nusz and John McVicker, a promising soph. On the right side will be Howie Dare, who had a big year as a soph, Dick Burgee, B-teamers Jack Healy and Harold Hull; along with fine frosh prospects Fred Hamilton and Phil Perlo. Hamilton could be the best of the rookies. At fullback, veteran Tom Selep should have a great year. He has great speed and is most adequate defensively. Jim Skarda and Bill Komlo, two real block-busters, will battle it out with Selep for top honors.

The quarterback situation seems ideal with Tamburello one of the best two-way signal callers we have had backed up by the veteran Lynn Beightol who is extremely capable offensively and certainly adequate on defense. A trio of rookies—Fred Petrella, Ralph Hawkins, and Bob Rusevlyan—will lend a big hand.

The road to victory will be rough, and Tatum and his staff realize this. Games with top teams in seven of the nation's Conferences mean a lot of fret and fear.

All-Conference and the Washington-Maryland outstanding college player awards in 1942.

During the war, Mont served 42 months in the Army, 18 of which were spent in the ETO. He played ball throughout his long hitch. He was tailback on the Fort Benning Post championship team of '43. As quarterback and head coach, he led the 3rd Infantry team to the ETO title. He also was at the helm of the 7th Army All-Star team.

Following his discharge, Mont returned to Maryland and was quarterback of the '46 team as he gained All-America mention and All-Conference honors.

For the past three summers, he has spent two weeks as an advisory coach at National Polytechnic Institute in Mexico City. His work there has been responsible for Tatum scheduling the Terp frosh to take a trip to Mexico City for a game with Poly, October 15.

The Monts have three sons; Steve, Jeff, and Danny.

Before coming to Maryland, Cheek was line coach and baseball coach in '49 and '50 at Guilford College, N. C.

Cheek, along with Eddie Teague, are the Terp scouts during the season. Also, he is an instructor in the Physical Education Department.

Cheek and Teague have just completed an outstanding publication on scouting. The book will be published early this fall.

The Cheeks have one son, Tommy.

2nd Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C., Atlantic Fleet Champions in 1947.

At Maryland, he had four brilliant years, lettering all four seasons playing tackle, guard and center. His career was topped off his senior year as he was named to the All-Conference first team and was selected to play in the annual Chicago-Tribune All-Star classic along with teammates Bob Ward, Ed Modzelewski, and Joe Moss. His standout performance in the Sugar Bowl victory over Tennessee also was another highlight of his senior year, as he won additional laurels for his stellar defensive play as a linebacker.

Following graduation in '52 from the School of Physical Education, Kensler was named line coach at Washington and Lee. He stayed there for two seasons and then moved to V.M.I. as line coach. He was added to the Terp staff this January.

Kensler married a former Maryland co-ed, Judy Speake. They have two children, Richard, 5; and a daughter, Jay, one.

of those behind him are letterman Buck Priestler, non-letterman Earl Greene and freshman star John Grdijan.

B. C. Inabinet and Marazza, "B" unit regulars at tackle last fall, give the first eleven tremendous blocking power up front.

End is shallowest of all positions once past veterans Walt Laraway and Willie Smith. A pair of '53 lettermen, Pete Wall and Joe Bowen, and junior Dalton Rivers are battling rising sophomores Bill Few, Jordan and Breedlove for the runner-up spots.

Behind King and Bussey at quarterback there's little experience.

Converted lettermen—quarterback Tommy Williams and fullback Crimmins Hankinson—are running two-three at left halfback behind Wells, while husky Joe Pagliei and mighty mite Lem McLendon are below Jim Coleman at right half.

Fullback is the most solidly entrenched spot. Spooner has "beaten out" for the time being lettermen Bill O'Dell, Neuf Ankuta and Frank Griffith, but any of this quartet can operate on offense.

George Washington University

By CARROLL HALL

Colonial Coach, Eugene H. (Bo) Sherman looked toward his fourth season as George Washington University's head coach with optimism.

He has reason to be with 17 lettermen returning, and a host of newcomers from the junior varsity squad, which compiled a 3 and 2 record

Returning starters are: center, Dick Gaspari, selected on the All-Southern Conference team last year; guards, Bob Sutton and Ed Sakach; tackles, Dave Liddick, Bill McHenry and John Posta; ends, George Dancu and Paul Thompson; quarterback Bob Sturm; halfbacks Len Ciemiecki and Bill Weaver.

Claude Bo Austin and Skinny Saffer, who saw a great deal of action in the Colonial backfield are also back for action. Along with Mike Sommer, speedy halfback from Woodrow Wilson High, are Joe Rosania, Pete Spera, and Jim Wagner. Bob Shuba, Nat Naddeo and Dick Claypool are slated to see action at fullback.

Lou Donofrio, formerly a halfback and Bill Berry, tackle, have been switched to end. Sherman is expecting great things from guards Ed Solack and Bob Murray, and reserve center, Joe Hince, who also lettered last year. Ray Looney and Jack HENZES are vying for the quarterback role along with Sturm.

G.W. lost the services of Richie Gaskell, All-Conference end; Pat Kober and Jack Daly, two other outstanding wingmen; John Ziamandanis, tackle; Al Solomon, guard; and fullbacks, Norb Danz and Joe Boland.

"We'll have more experience in the forward wall this year, and we should have more speed in the backfield" Sherman stated, "and we are hoping to do a lot better than last year."

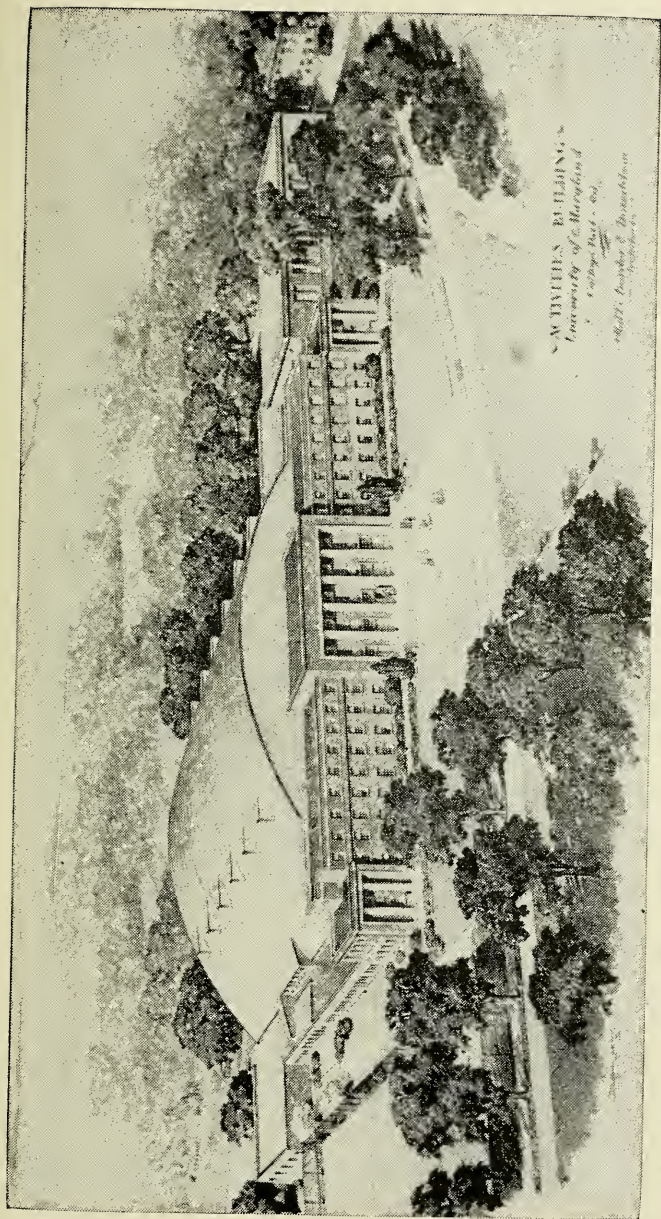

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

The history of the present University is the history of two institutions: the old privately-owned and operated University of Maryland in Baltimore and the Maryland State College (formerly Maryland Agricultural College) at College Park. These institutions were merged in 1920.

In 1807, the College of Medicine of Maryland was organized, the fifth medical school in the United States. The first class was graduated in 1810. A permanent home was established in 1814-1815 by the erection of the building at Lombard and Green Streets in Baltimore, the oldest structure in America devoted to medical teaching. Here was founded one of the first medical libraries (and the first medical school library) in the United States. In 1812 the General Assembly of Maryland authorized the College of Medicine of Maryland to "annex or constitute facilities of divinity, law, and arts and sciences," and by the same act declared that the "colleges or faculties thus united should be constituted an university by the name and under the title of the University of Maryland." By authority of this act, steps were taken in 1813 to establish "a faculty of law," and in 1823 a regular school of instruction in law was opened. Subsequently there were added: in 1882 a Department of Dentistry which was absorbed in 1923 by the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery (founded in 1840, the first dental school in the world); in 1889 a School of Nursing; and in 1904 the Maryland College of Pharmacy (founded in 1841, the third oldest pharmacy college in the United States).

The Maryland State College was chartered in 1856 under the name of the Maryland Agricultural College, the second agricultural college in the Western Hemisphere. For three years the College was under private management. In 1862 the Congress of the United States passed the Land Grant Act. This act granted each State and Territory that should claim its benefits an appropriate amount of unclaimed western lands, in place of scrip, the proceeds from the sale of which should apply under certain conditions to the "endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such a manner as the Legislatures of the States may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life." This grant was accepted by the General Assembly of Maryland, and the Maryland Agricultural College was named as the beneficiary of the grant. Thus the College became, at least in part, a State institution. In the fall of 1914 control was taken over entirely by the State. In 1916 the General Assembly granted a new charter to the College, and made it the Maryland State College.

In 1920, by an act of the State Legislature, the University of Maryland was merged with the Maryland State College, and the resultant institution was given the name University of Maryland.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND'S PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES BUILDING. The new home for the College of Physical Education, Recreation, and Health also will be the scene of all Terp indoor athletic events. The finest home basketball schedule in Maryland history has been arranged with the dedication of the building to take place with a game against the University of Virginia, December 2. The arena will seat 12,500 for all indoor athletic events.
